Good News!

November 4, 2018

Thirty-first Sunday in Ordinary Time (B)

Dt 6:2-6; Heb 7:23-28; Mk 12:28b-34

Today's first reading recalls the most sacred text in Judaism, the Shema Israel: "Hear, [O] Israel." These words are so sacred for Jews, they are prayed in the most important moments of peril or supreme holiness. Jews don't take these words lightly because they express the essence of their religion and relationship to God.

As Catholics, we fully agree with our Jewish brothers and sisters on this matter. Jesus himself answered the question of what was the first, greatest commandment—it was the Shema Israel. Why is it so important? Because it declares the unity of God: "The LORD is our God, the LORD alone!" (Deuteronomy 6:4). He is one supreme God, not a multitude of divinities as in the Greek and Roman polytheistic religions, or even today in Hinduism and Buddhism.

This belief in one God makes the monotheistic religions of Judaism and Christianity unique. Second, this supreme God deserves our love and obedience. "You shall love the Lord your God..." Our role as creatures called and saved by him is to offer loving obedience.

The Second Commandment flows from the first: If we love God above all, then we need to love our brothers, sisters, and ourselves.

What better icon is there of this love for God and neighbor than the love of a mother for her child? Our love should be reverent, tender, compassionate, and unique. Only you can give him your kind of love. There should be a constant flow of affection and union between us—no separation between him and us.

HOLY HUMOR

Brother John's solution to his mid-life crisis was to have an expensive face lift. He was extremely pleased with the results.

A week later, feeling very proud of himself, he asked the clerk at the ice cream parlor, "How old do you think I am?"

After studying him, the clerk guessed, "I'd say late twenties or early thirties." Brother John vainly announced, "I'm forty-seven years old."

Still feeling his oats, he stopped at the bakery and asked the baker the same question,

The baker, without hesitation, said, "Thirty,"

With a wide smile on his face, the brother informed the baker, "I'm forty-seven."

John then boarded the bus and a woman sat down next to him, "I just had a birthday last week," he said, "and if you can correctly tell me how old I am I'll give you twenty dollars."

She barely looked up from her knitting. "You are forty-seven years old," she said.

Now deflated, John paid her the twenty dollars, "How did you figure that out?" he asked pathetically. "Do I look forty-seven?"

"No," she responded with a smile, "I was behind you at the bakery."

GOD'S LAWS

God's laws are not intended to burden or torment us. Instead they are guideposts that point us in the direction of good living. Accordingly, good living requires loving God and loving one another. We should not follow God's laws out of fear of what might happen if we don't, but rather view them as a foundation for building relationships and trust with one another and with God.

The Shema prayer of Orthodox Jews is based on the reading from Deuteronomy today, "Hear, O Israel." Every morning people recite the prayer as a profession of their love for God and pledge their obedience to God throughout the day. They pass on their love of God to their children, from one generation to the next.

DEAR PADRE

November 4, 2018

Can you clarify the role of nuns and women in the Church? When I was growing up, they seemed much more involved, but nowadays our church never seems to discuss their role or support their work.

Women's role in the Church is essential in many areas, including teaching, passing on the faith to their families, and witnessing to their faith in the community. Religious sisters are essential to the Church's pastoral care, as Vatican II states: "From the outset of the work of evangelization, the missionary 'planting' and expansion of the Church require the presence of the religious life in all its forms" (Catechism of the Catholic Church, 927).

Religious sisters, and their religious brothers, share a universal call to be "devoted to the welfare of the whole Church...working to implant and strengthen the Kingdom of Christ" in a new generation of Catholics (Dogmatic Constitution on the Church [Lumen Gentium], 44).

Today, sisters have declined in number, but they are present and essential to Church ministry through religious education, pastoral care in hospitals, faith-based social outreach, and parish and diocesan administration. They continue Christ's presence, as did the women first to encounter the risen Christ and bring this Good News to others.

We need religious sisters; parents and parishes need to speak about vocations. God gives the gift, and we have the responsibility to nurture those women "called to signify the very charity of God in the language of our time" (CCC 926).
